

FLEX PLI GTR Model development status

- FLEX PLI GTR Beta model versions have been released in February 2010
  - Models are validated at material, component, pendulum and inverse test level
- Eight OEM's tested the model and simulated one or more vehicle tests
  - correlation results have been discussed at the 5th consortium meeting in Braunschweig, Germany (March 25th)
  - some OEM's already achieved very good correlation results
  - some improvement points were identified and requirements are defined for the next (production) release to be expected this year
